

IMMOOR

The Thievery of Your Own Things

Lyrics

1. Chemical Feelings

Too many rounds in the chamber when you're playing roulette when the reason that you play it is to try and forget the things we forgot to do last year

I got a plan but the plan paid the rent with the money that I made and the time that I spent so tell me where to go from here?

And if I, live through it I'll take you with me when the course is set the destination it eludes us all while we wait for a cab that can't be called why don't we run, run, run into it these chemical feelings we can't predict take control, take control all of the fine lines won't fade away they'll leave us there must be a better way to go

X2 why don't we run, run, run into it

2. Concrete Boots

Don't try to comprehend the demons, in your head They'll tell you what to do They're just trying to give you reasons to move up and move past what holds you back

I sink like mafia concrete boots inside your head you've got nothing to lose just come out and see me one more time I planned it all out and got you all wrong It's safe to pretend just to get along Leaving is the hardest thing to do hold you up and hold you down so you can be all right, just for now same old signs and lame regrets and you hate to say what you were thinking next

I planned it all out and got you all wrong
Leaving is the hardest thing to do

3. Bows and Arrows

If its the same story, I'll tell you again but finding the pieces may prove a battle I can't win well, I followed every instruction to a "T" but still somehow when I look in the mirror I still don't see me bows and arrows will be our best friends while we shoot these words at each other can't find time to redraw these lines in the sand I'll come out when the war is over as I pull away from the station, theres no way to guarantee that this burning sensation, is linked to reality well I think I found, a reason to get out but how can I trust my best intention X2 bows and arrows will be our best friends while we shoot these words at each other

can't find time to redraw these lines in the sand

4. Collapsible Construction

Your plastic is corroding as you polish your smile I guess you get and you give it and you stay for a while stay for a while temporary size of emotional bliss made for replacement, face the acceptable risk stay for a while

but if you get me, you'll try to see the way I think, my philosophy is an addiction to the details in life it's not hard to find the open mind it's a product of an ancient design a contraption of collapsible construction your forehead is exploding while you wait in the line a classic reconstruction of a tragic design a tragic design patronizing patronage while falling asleep suck it in, tell me when the differences meet a tragic design

it's a product of an ancient design
a contraption of collapsible construction

5. Unit 371

There's a minor complication in the product report that 371 has a problem of sorts it seems to be.... malfunctioning

It was traced to a cube under fluorescent lights There's a simple small error in construction design was it in the blueprints or a matter of time it'll take time just to make a repair, is it anything that we can use around here

(Chorus)
There must be a world outside of this,
a place where all these pieces fit somewhere I'll find out

Spare parts and gas won't be enough to lift me out where I'm coming from ahh, ahh, ahhhhhhhhh well I heard that I'm the target of selection crews when my function was removed from production use and figures show my parts are obsolete (beep, beep, be, be, beep) well I'd rather not be dismantled here I've been chosen to be shaped into cans for beer to keep costs down and earnings up this week well it's getting too late to plan an escape, I guess I should accept my mechanical fate And try not to think about decisions I didn't make

But still I wish that I were another design resistant to the rain so I could go outside....

(Chorus)
There must be a world outside of this,

ahh, ahh, ahhhhhhhhh

(Outro)
Ahhhhhhhhh, Ahhhhhh, Ahhhhhh ----->

6. In Tow

Shutting down reactors and get I'll go get packing again we've been waiting for the time that this would happen to us my friend crack and move, and it's you and it's time to be out back it up, get your heart, box it in shut it down

Cancel out all the things that would bring you back up don't you try, you'll know why when you run out of luck too much in, I'm stuck in this landslide, in your eyes you kindly, remind me of the time, past the line it seems that, you won't last you're not real, dreams I'll steal untie me, so I see cut me loose

X2
crack and move, and it's you

7. Mushroom Cloud

Saw a mushroom cloud on the horizon, it won't make a sound when the shock-wave comes to consume us and everyone...

(bomb) didn't see it come was here one moment, then the next it's gone lock myself in a vault and I'll come out when the century's done

8. Math

Adding two and two five and six come out facing all my fears exiting with doubts plans have gone awry even though I tried...

if I leave, if I leave, if I leave..
if I leave....

9. Underside Up

Hit me, Hit see, I'm in the ground Swimming in the floor below Lovely outside, someone just died rolling around it's someone you didn't know letting you down, something I've found digging inside tell me when...

and you know, in the end, it will leave again but you'll stay for a while, and you'll fake a smile

but you'll stay for a while, and you'll fake a smile for me..

falling out fly, falling out sky, deep into you burn down right on cue lighting this fire, begging for rain, cutting in time faces showing though walking this line, leaving this time, open your mind let it in....

but you'll stay for a while, and you'll fake a smile for me..

10. String

Hope's in the corner lying in wait don't make a sound or she'll awake curled up alone in a ball of strings tied to your heart, I hate these things bricks on your chest, its hard to breathe when leaving out these things you need

i try to shout and tell the world but nothing comes out, it may be me

(break) so what if I pretend to understand what you said it never changed a thing, this crash was beckoning I broke the code of lies, but now it's leaving me how soon will we forget the lessons change will bring.

but nothing comes out, it may be me

11. Alive for the moment

(no lyrics, just guitars and humming)
